Annual Meeting Date Set by CO-OP

RALEIGH, N.C.- Billy W. Hill, President of Flue-Cured Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corporation, and Fred G. Bond, the CO-OP's General Manager, jointly announced today that the 33rd Annual Membership Meeting of the CO-OP will be held May 25, 1979, at the Kerr Scott Pavilion, located at the N.C. State Fairgrounds, beginning at 10 a.m. and adjourning around 12 noon. A complimentary barbecue lunch will be served to all in attendance.

'Tis the season for offering both congratulations and words of counsel to school graduates. And to all those connected with the process of education, from teacher to parent, from janitor to taxpayer, from bus driver to cafeteria worker, from librarian to coach and everyone along the assembly line from kindergarten to diploma. I have no sage counsel, but it so happend that I have just finished an Earle Stanley Gardner mystery story, "The Case of The Backward Mule." The opening statement ran like this . . . "Chow Kok Koh was a Chinese philosopher who rode his mule backwards. He claimed it made no difference where he was going. All that counted was what he did along the way." I am confident that what our graduates "do along the way" will bring honor and reward to Historic Appomattox County.

Miracles are welcome, but with gardens planted and hopes high, we are using patience to await results. Once again, who will come up with the first garden fresh tomatoes, the first watermelon, etc.? This year I planted more flowers than vegetables, but will be grateful for strength to keep the weeds and pests under control. I have found that one of the garden chores most likely to be shirked is thinning. I have no relish for pulling up healthy plants just because they are not growing six inches apart. Heavens to Betsy, I am prone to give'em all a chance. Maybe my onions will be smaller, my sunflowers shorter than the pictures on the seed packet. Ah yes, and my reputation as a gardner remains in low profile.

How are you faring in the gasoline struggle? Thus far it would appear that Appomattox is making out. I have set up a chart, showing gas purchases, trip destination and mileage. Will add another column for . . . price. You are lucky if you can plan your trips for low traffic hours, to avoid burning gas just waiting and idling.

I have never heard of another newspaper named The Times-Virginian. But in the current issue of Reader's Digest there is a quote from The Fairmont Times-West Virginian.

Weeks and weeks away yet, but I found a suggestion that a watermelon is ripe when you thump it and the thump sounds the same as thumping your shoe.

Back to the gasoline topic. As I recall it, gasoline was not a major concern with the famous Motel T. Got wonderful mileage. Of more concern was keeping the radiator cool, patching tires and tubes, and fighting mud. And cranking.

Watched a hay mowing and baling operation recently and 'twas nice. Especially the smell of newly mowed hay.

For File No. 39 . . . a liter is 5 per cent more than a quart, roughly 3.875 liters in a gallon. I am not enthusiastic about changing to the metric system.

Last mention of gasoline in this column . . . I remember when at Burge's No. One you'd get five gallons of gas for ninety cents. And pay for it with trade money. Ah yes, thanks for reading and seeya next week.

Lions Will Sell Brooms!

Members are reminded that they are to pick up the brooms at Appomattox Hardware Storage Building, across from Evans' Barber Shop, from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. It is hoped that the sale will be completed and members will be back at the John Mosby Inn for dinner at 7:15 p.m. Their goal is to sell out and make this fund raising project "a clean sweep!"

Student Receives College Scholarship From Thomasville Furniture Industries

THOMASVILLE, N. C. – An Appomattox County High School senior is one of eight students to win college scholarships sponsored by the Thomasville Furniture Industries Foundation.

The winners, all children of Thomasville Furniture Industries employees, were honored at a scholarship banquet Tuesday night at the T&T main office building here.

The local recipient is Molly Ruth Handy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Handy of Appomattox. Mrs. Elaine Handy is employed at the Appomattox plant of the company's Armstrong Furniture Division. Molly will graduate this spring from Appomattox County High School and plans to attend Longwood College in Farmville, majoring in mathematics.

Other T. Austin Finch Scholarship awards were presented to: Robert Watson Nelson, Shannon Leigh Sechrist, Jeffery Myers Stone and Kevin Raynard Worthy, all of Thomasville, N. C.; Wanda Gaye Dotson, of Rural Hall, N. C.; Kelly Louise Dula of Lenoir, N. C.; and Julia Elizabeth Grimes of Claremont, N. C.

The T. Austin Finch Scholarships were established in 1960 as part of the Thomasville Furniture Industries Foundation, and named in memory of the late T. Austin Finch who served as company president from 1929 to 1943. A total of 155 students have received scholarships since the program began.

Scholarships are presented annually and apply toward tuition, room, board and fees for the freshman academic year at any accredited college or university in the United States.

The student's performance is evaluated each year and scholarships may be renewed for a period of up to four years.

This year, eight scholarship recipients were selected from 32 applicants. (The Scholarship Trust Agreement, which is approved by the Internal Revenue Service, provides that the percentage of scholarships granted to freshmen for a particular scholastic year shall in no event exceed 25 percent of eligible applicants for such grants.)

Selection is based on factors which include high school academic credentials, character, leadership and financial need. All applicants were interviewed in April and the final selection was made by a committee of three persons who are not affiliated with Thomasville Furniture.

Tom A. Finch, TFI chairman of the board, presented the scholarship awards at the banquet Tuesday night which was attended by students, their parents and high school administrators.

"I look forward to this evening every year," Finch said, "to recognize the outstan-

RICHMOND - The Department of Conservation and Economic Development, Divison of Parks, announced the opening of state park facilities for the 1979 season on Saturday, May 26, through Labor Day.

"Due to the increased emphasis on gas conservation, we anticipate record usage of state park facilities by Virginians," said Park Commissioner, Ben H. Bolen.

This summer, visitors to Virginia's state parks can enjoy a wide range of activities and facilities such as horseback riding, swimming, fishing, camping, hiking, boating and nature observation. Among the new facilities being offered are a bathhouse at Pocahontas State Park, a bicycle trail at Seashore State Park, and restroom and picnic facilities at Shot Tower Historical State Park.

Bolen added that additional activities during the summer season include popular arts and crafts activities at Chippokes Plantation, Hungry Mother, Claytor Lake and Westmoreland State Parks. Interpretive programs such as nature walks, hikes, boat tours, and evening programs with slides and movies are also available during the operating season.

Camping and cabin facilities provide overnight lodging for park enthusiasts. Eight state parks offer rustic cabins for rent until October 1, 1979, and camping is available in 14 state parks. Over 1,400 campsites can be rented from one to fourteen days at a cost of $3.64 (tax included) per night," said Bolen.

Reservations for cabins and campsites can be made in person at any state park with cabins and/or campsites, or commercial Ticketron terminals. Attorney General Takes Steps To Promote Manufacture of Gasohol

Attorney General Marshall Coleman has taken the first steps towards promoting the manufacture in Virginia of industrial alcohol for use in making gasohol. Coleman announced today that four regional hearings on regulations governing industrial alcohol production will be held in June.

The first hearing will be held in Richmond at the State Capitol in Senate Room 4 on June 4 at 10 a.m., followed by a hearing in Northern Virginia on June 5 at 10 a.m. in the Fairfax County School Administration Building in the School Board Room. In Salem a hearing will be held Thursday, June 7 at 10 a.m. in the Salem-Roanoke Civic Center, Room A, and in Norfolk on Wednesday, June 13 at 10 a.m. at the Old Dominion University in the Webb Center, Room 154.

The Attorney General is charged with establishing regulations and issuing permits for the manufacture of industrial alcohol (ethanol). Ethanol is mixed with gasoline at a 1 to 9 ratio to make gasohol, which can be used in any gasoline-powered automobile without engine modifications. As concern grows about a gasoline shortage, gasohol has become increasingly popular as a means for stretching gasoline supplies.

"After I announced several weeks ago my interest in gasohol," Coleman said, "I was contacted by a number of people who would like to see gasohol prepared with ethanol manufactured in Virginia. If gasohol becomes accepted nationally as a means for increasing gasoline supplies, Virginia farmers and businessmen should be in a position to make the most of it."

Coleman noted that Virginia's Administrative Process Act required hearings before regulations could be issued. "I decided to hold regional hearings to make this process more accessible to the people of Virginia," he said.

"I intend to issue fairly simple regulations," Coleman said. "These hearings will enable us to anticipate any problems or special concerns which may arise about manufacture or use of ethanol and gasohol.

"Strictly speaking, these hearings apply solely to regulations governing the manufacture of ethanol," Coleman said, "but I believe this will provide an opportunity for us to hear more about the prospects for gasohol to become a realistic energy alternative."

"Production of gasohol also would create a boost for Virginia's agricultural and coal producing segments. Virginia has had a surplus corn crop for several years and no market for it or for deteriorated grain that is unfit for human consumption. We could use our surplus corn and deteriorated grain for gasohol production. This would in no way effect our grain sources used in livestock feed. The by-product of making industrial alcohol from grain is a corn mash which is nearly equal in volume and nutrition to the same amount of grain before distillation takes place," Coleman said.
